IOLA Foundation is exempt from taxation under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and California Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701d.

Generally accepted accounting principles provide accounting and disclosure guidance about positions taken by an organization in its tax returns that might be uncertain. Management has considered its tax positions and believes that all of the positions taken by IOLA Foundation in its federal and state exempt organization tax returns are more likely than not to be sustained upon examination. IOLA Foundation's returns are subject to examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three and four years, respectively, after they are filed.

Form 990, Part I, Line 1, Description of Organization Mission:

transgender youth around the world that it gets better, and to create and inspire the changes needed to make it better for them.

Form 990, Page 1, Organization Mission

Growing up isn't easy. Many young people face daily tormenting and bullying, leading them to feel like they have nowhere to turn. This is especially true for LGBT kids and teens, who often hide their sexuality for fear of bullying. Without other openly gay adults and mentors in their lives, they can't imagine what their future may hold. In many instances, gay and lesbian adolescents are taunted - even tortured - simply for being themselves.

While many of these teens couldn't see a positive future for themselves, we can. The It Gets Better Project was created to show young LGBT people the levels of happiness, potential, and positivity their lives will reach. The It Gets Better Project wants to remind youth in the LGBT community that they are not alone - and it will get better.

History

In September 2010, syndicated columnist and author Dan Savage created a YouTube video with his partner Terry Miller to inspire hope for young people facing harassment. In response to a number of students taking their own lives after being bullied in school, they wanted to create a personal way for supporters everywhere to tell LGBT youth that, yes, it does indeed get better. Their video offered a needed message of hope to lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) youth. It urged young people to stay true to themselves even through the bullying and other challenges that confronted them in their adolescent years. It described the positive future they could experience as adults. The message was simple, that no matter how difficult things may be, it gets better.

That first video was the catalyst for the founding of the It Gets Better Project and ignited a worldwide movement, inspiring more than 60,000 user-created videos viewed more than 50 million times. To date, the project has received submissions from celebrities, organizations, activists, politicians and media personalities, including President Barack Obama, Secretary of State and 2016 Presidential candidate Hillary Clinton, Rep. Nancy Pelosi, Adam Lambert, Anne Hathaway, Colin Farrell, Matthew Morrison of "Glee", Joe Jonas, Joel Madden, Ke$ha, Sarah Silverman, Tim Gunn, Ellen DeGeneres, Suze Orman, the staffs of Google, Facebook, Pixar, The Gap, the Broadway community, and many more. gets better.

The Project also works to feature the it gets better message through television and film. In partnership with MTV and Logo, it produced a recurring special called It Gets Better, featuring the stories of LGBT young people, their struggles and achievements. As a result, the Project received an Emmy award for its use of the medium of television to achieve social good.

The media program of the It Gets Better Project continues to ensure that the it gets better message is routinely featured in print journalism, radio and other forms of media, by working with news organizations around the world to promote the Project's activities and advance discussions about topics important to LGBT youth.

Lastly, the Project inspired a New York Times best-selling book titled, It Gets Better: Coming Out, Overcoming Bullying, and Creating a Life Worth Living. The book is a collection of some of the early it gets better stories that are part of the Project's online video collection. Through the It Gets Better Schools and Libraries Project, over 1,500 copies of the book have been donated to school and community libraries around the country.

partners to develop new resources that address these needs. Through this collaborative approach, the Project has improved the visibility of well-established organizations that provide services for LGBT youth. It has also generated opportunities to focus on emerging issues ranging from the participation of LGBT youth in recreational and professional sports to transgender health and wellness. The Project acts as a bridge for LGBT youth to connect with the community that cares so deeply about them, and uses the power of working together to show LGBT youth a brighter future.

supported programs to benefit LGBT youth on six continents. The programs are as diverse as the Project's collection of videos. They include a museum exhibit in South Africa featuring local it gets better videos, an award-winning film featuring a transgender lead character in Thailand, a program about addressing LGBT bullying at the U.S. embassy in Guadalajara, Mexico and participation in pride festivals in several European capitals. People around the world have found inspiration in the it gets better message, and through that inspiration, the Project continues to identify new ways to create resources and improve the lives of LGBT youth.

The Project now also supports a growing network of more than a dozen international affiliates, from Chile and Portugal to Sweden and Australia, each of which uses the power of the it gets better message in its own unique way to facilitate change for LGBT youth. Through coordinated efforts both domestic and overseas, and working alongside its affiliates, the Project is able to bring the expertise of established organizations into regions where resources for LGBT youth are scarce.
