Hey Alvin, that's a good idea.

Let's start by identifying the main points:

1. We need to find a way to keep the library quiet.
2. We should consider setting clear rules for behavior.
3. We might need to appoint librarians to enforce these rules.

What do you think? Do you have any ideas or suggestions?